

Add to Your Vexations

Even puzzling can get boring
When polyominoes exploring
With thoughts of trying something new
Here's what I now propose to do

Each vexing puzzle plan of mine
That from now on I may design
For better (or perhaps for worse!)
Will come accompanied by verse

And for this bonus snatch of rhyme
You'll not be charged an extra dime
So brace yourself as wry quotations
May only add to your vexations

And who can tell where this might lead
If some amuse you just to read
I might, if hearing good reports,
Combine them in a book of sorts
